

Pertinent Paragraphs

Add to (getting to be) old-timers of Lemon Grove, the Avalon Cafe. For on Tuesday, the MacQueens celebrated their second anniversary and lots of ice cream and cake were partaken of in celebration. Not to mention half a beef!

The Lemon Grove ground hog did not see his shadow yesterday, according to a flat statement in a San Diego newspaper, who proclaimed in bold face type that not a single animal exists in the county! (Some research department.)

One thing that bothers us a little. Almost as much as a radio commercial on a loaf of bread. It's Lemongrove. Wonder what it is? Reminds us of a recent trip we made. Either went through or skirted Sandiego, Losangeles, Santabarbara, Pasorobles, Sanjose and Sanfrancisco. And oh yes — Sanluisobispo!

This one we're indebted to the Clear Lake Observer for, and we are not sure but what they have something there! Blessings on thee, little man; Barefoot boy with cheeks of tan, Trudging down a dusty lane With no thought of future pain! Your're our one, our only bet To absorb the national debt! Little man, with cares so few, We've a lot of faith in you! Guard each merry whistled tune, You are apt to need it soon. Have your fun now, while you can—

You may be a barefoot man! Have you noticed that "OLD GLORY" never fails to fly over the Lemon? Incidentally "OLD GLORY" was donated by Ray Adlfinger and is so well taken care of by Joe Young of the Shopping Center.

Dogs Give Alarm; House Saved from Burning

Tuesday night of last week the occupants of a duplex on Bryan Court and Orange Place, known to old timers as the "Spruance" home, were awakened by the barking of a pair of Doberman Pinscher dogs owned by Mr. and Mrs. K. Morrow. They smelled smoke, so aroused Mrs. Morrow and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Ward, who live in the duplex.

Mrs. Morrow discovered a vent above the water heater had become so hot a fire had started there. The Morrrows immediately called the Forestry Department, and while they were waiting for the fire truck to arrive Mr. Ward got busy with a hose. It wasn't a very big fire, but it wasn't getting any smaller, so Mr. Ward's timely action probably saved the two families from hunting another place to live.

Credit also goes to the two fine dogs, whose sense of smell gave them the instinctive feeling that they had best get some one awakened, who could do something about it.

John Sharpe, his wife Mary, and Donald Thomas attempted to remove a cow from the George Daley Ranch Tuesday. It is alleged that they shot the animal with a .22 rifle and slit its throat; then after loading it on a truck, found themselves mired in the soft earth.

An employee phoned the sheriff's office; Willard Rigley and other officers arrived. The trio were arraigned in municipal court.

Local Lady Gets Top Award For Letter

Mrs. Harrington F. Shaw was the fortunate winner in the "Recipe of the Week" contest during the second week of January.

Her letter on how she enjoyed the savory meat loaf, made according to the Orange Empire Stores' recipe, was judged best among all entries.

The award received was a large Western Holly gas range, complete with light, timer, clock, oven control, etc. The retail price of the stove is $385.00.

Each week, a number of valuable awards is made to entrants who write the best letters on how they enjoy a dish made from a "recipe of the week." These recipes are given weekly at the Shopping Center.

Mrs. Shaw mailed her letter on January 9, and on January 19, she was notified that she had won.

ADLFINGER BUYS INTEREST OF PARTNER

In a transaction to be completed this week, Raymond J. Adlfinger of Lemon Grove will become the sole owner of the Shopping Center of Lemon Grove, and the Solano Beach Shopping Center of Solano Beach.

In the deal, Adlfinger buys all the interest of his long time, partner, Insley A. Roy, in both properties.

One of his first acts as new owner, Adlfinger has announced, will be to appoint F. P. (Bud) Krause manager of the Lemon Grove store, and Jerry Courtois, well known here, as manager of the Solano Beach store.

The partners purchased the Shopping Center here from Sonka Brothers about three and a half years ago and immediately began modernizing it. It is now one of the busiest, both from the standpoint of volume of business and number of customers served, stores in the county.

The Solano Beach store was purchased two years ago. Previously the partners had operated the A-1 Market on El Cajon boulevard.

Roy is planning a long rest and has no other immediate business plans.

The regular weekly luncheon meeting of the Lemon Grove Business Men's Association was held at the Country Club Tuesday noon with John A. Hill presiding.

After the meal, Rev. Dan Apra reported on the possibility of holding breakfast meetings instead of the usual luncheons.

There will be a full report made next week and, according to president Hill, the meeting of February 16 will be a breakfast meeting.

The revised by-laws were read and members will be notified at least 7 days in advance of the voting on the changes.

Programs for the next three months will be in charge of a committee consisting of J. Barnes, R. Murphy and F. Higgins. The first breakfast meeting will be highlighted by movies and a speaker from the Gas and Electric Company on utility problems in Lemon Grove.

LET'S DISCUSS IT

by Mrs. Agnes Whitlock

Here it is February 2, 'Groundhog Day', and what do you know about groundhogs? I didn't know much either, but I am going to let you in on a little secret. In Monterey Heights, there are three experts on this subject, from (take a deep breath) Punxsutawney, Pennsylvania, the official groundhog town.

Have you met Mr. and Mrs. Arthur J. Barry, and their daughter, Carol Lynne, aged 7? They live at 1600 Skyline Drive. Lieutenant Frank N. Lewis, U. S. Navy, retired, is also from was given to the town by Captain Barclay, and is a very beautiful park. Each summer, band concerts, (municipal band) are held in the bandstand, which is a memorial to Punxsutawney soldiers.

"Community spirit is very high. One of the most outstanding gifts to the community was the American Legion gift of a 25,000 home to be used as a library.

"I think you know the name is of Indian origin. Originally, a Shawnee wigwam village occupied the site on Mahoning Creek. It is said that the chief's name was Tawnee. When the white men came through, they found many mosquitos which they called 'punkies'. Hence the town of Punkies, finally Punxsutawney.

"As to the 'su' part of the name, I'll tell you what I heard and you can believe it if you want to. The Indian chief had a wife named Su, and Su was almost eaten alive by the mosquitos, so they thought she rated a place in the name. There you have it, Punx-

Punxsutawney. The lieutenant lives just two doors from the Barrys, at 7933 Lansing Drive. He is going to help them tell you about the groundhog town.

"Punxsutawney, pronounced punks ah taw' nee, is a small town of 10 thousand population, situated in the foothills of the Clearfield mountains, part of the Allegheny range.

"In the soft coal region, the headquarters of the second largest producers of bituminous coal and coke in the United States is there. Walton, (two miles away) had the longest string of coke ovens in the world. The oldest bituminous coal mine is the Adraian mine.

"Punxsutawney is north of Indiana, Pa., the home of Jimmy Stewart; and 20 miles south of Du Bois, the birthplace of Tom Mix. They are just two of the many well known persons from our part of the country.

"We have a centrally located park, called Barclay Square. It su-tawney.

"Now that we have told you about the town, we want you to know what it is famous for. As we told you, it is the official groundhog town.

"On February 2, the country anxiously awaits the outcome of the event that is taking place atop Gobbler's Knob. It is there the Groundhog Club, (whose president is the famous Dr. Frank Lorenzo) await the arrival of Mr. Groundhog. When he arrives, Mr. Groundhog is supposed to give a little speech on the state of the union, and whether we will have an early spring, or six more weeks of winter.

"How does all of this come about? Well, now, this is the way I understand it. If he comes out of his hole and sees his shadow, he gets scared and runs back into his winter headquarters, and we have more winter. But if he comes out and doesn't see his shadow, he plays around in the warm air with the other little groundhogs and spring is here.

"In Punxsutawney Mr. Groundhog is a very important personage. He is the mascot of everybody and everything. No organization would think of being in a parade or exhibit without their groundhog.

"February 2 is probably the only day in the year that you'll hear anything about Punxsutawney. On this day, K. D. K. A., Pittsburgh's pioneer radio station broadcasts the happenings at Mr. Groundhog's official winter quarters on Gobbler's Knob.

A big groundhog dinner is held in August and many famous people attend. Groundhog meat is the highlight of the meal, served with vegetables and beer, of course.

ROY and RAYMOND J. ADLFINGER as a co-partnership, and known as THE SHOPPING CENTER and SOLANO BEACH SHOPPING CENTER, respectively.

Said escrow to be consummated on the 7th day of February, 1949, at 10 A. M., at the office of the San Diego Wholesale Credit Men's Association, 508 Orpheum Building, San Diego 1, California.

"My cousin had a groundhog as a pet; each winter it would go down to the fruit cellar (which had a soil floor) and it would hibernate. He would come out once in a while, but would go back and sleep until the beginning of spring."

For those of you who have never seen a groundhog, I'll try to tell you what he looks like. They are sometimes called woodchucks. They are 18 to 24 inches long, grizzled above and chestnut red on the lower part of the body, with blackish feet and tail. They eat various plants, fruits and vegetables, and usually get very fat and roly poly in the summer time.

If you want to know more about this little fellow, just call on the Barrys or Lt. Lewis. Mrs. Barry and little Carol have been here just four months and I am sure they would enjoy having you call on them.

Forward Club Hold Regular Bi-Weekly Meet

Approximately fifty women gathered at the club house Friday, January 28, at 2:00 p.m., for their regular semi-monthly meeting.

Invitations were read inviting the members to several reciprocity teas and other social and business affairs, held at neighboring Federated Clubs.

The club voted to give $5.00 to the Society for Crippled Children.

Mrs. Randolph Morse, welfare chairman, announced a complete layette had been given to a needy family; also bedding and toys.

Mrs. Wm. Massey, membership chairman, announced three new members, Mrs. Wayne Hedge, Mrs. P. Chappelle and Mrs. R. Castigan. Guests introduced were Mrs. George Schlieff, Mrs. Clark, mother of Mrs. Kellison; Mrs. Miller of Portland, Oregon, and Mrs. W. D. Dermeyer, the speaker.

The main event of the business session was disposing of the indebtedness on the recent sewer installation. The Forward Club Juniors offered $100.00 toward the amount. Several members pledged to loan the balance due, after the club allotted all its surplus for the improvement. None of the amount will have to go to bonds, thereby saving the club a great deal of interest.

It was voted to give money toward a memorial window in the Congregational Church in honor of Mrs. L. D. Newton's husband who had passed away. Mrs. C. F. Baxter, program chairman, introduced Mrs. W. D. Dermeyer, who gave a talk on "Home Making" and suggestions for improving the home.

A special Birthday Luncheon will be the feature of the next meeting which will open at 12:30 p.m. with a pot luck luncheon in charge of Mrs. E. F. Barker. Mrs. A. P. Schnell stated the revised by-laws will be presented at this time for the approval of club members.

SCHOOL CONDUCTS FOOD SURVEY

Children of Lemon Grove School started "keeping books" early this week when the school's Food Survey got under way.

The survey started Sunday morning when all the children in grades three, four, five and six got Mom's assistance in putting down on the Survey Sheet a record of not only all they ate for breakfast, but also all they were offered and refused to eat. The same procedure was repeated three times each day for three days. There was a place for those between meal candy bars and the cookies Mom didn't miss, too.

Johnnie and Susie were, no doubt, relentless in getting down (on the record) every serving of vegetables and especially every glass of milk. Perhaps Mom thought it was enough to prepare and serve three meals a day, without having to keep a record of it. They all stuck to it, though, for they understood beforehand that it would help the teachers know exactly what to teach them about nutrition.

This Food Survey, together with the follow-up teaching program and the re-survey, is being sponsored by the Curriculum Committee of the Lemon Grove Teachers Club and conducted by teachers of grades three, four, five and six. Members of the committee are Mrs. Irene Cook, Mr. Eldon Goodall, Mrs. Evelyn Lauritzen, Mrs. June Mason, Mrs. Pauline Miller and Mr. William Vick.

To make more effective the four-week teaching program which follows the survey, posters, pamphlets, special readers, movies, and other teaching aids have been brought to the school through the cooperation of the San Diego City-County Health Department, The San Diego County Schools Service Center, and manufacturers of food and dairy products.

It is expected that poster contests and jingle contests will help keep interest at a high level.

P. T. A. News

The Executive Board of the Lemon Grove P.T.A. will meet Thursday, February 10, at 1:00 p.m., at the home of Mrs. R. J. Siegelman at 3932 Quarry Road.

Six members of the Executive Board met Wednesday, January 26, at the San Diego County School Center at Roscamans and Pacific Highway. This was a meeting of the Mt. Helix Council of P.T.A.s, and Dr. John Carroll, county superintendent of schools took them on a tour of the building and the audio visual service there. He also showed a moving picture of the mobile work shops which visit the county schools weekly.

At noon the group enjoyed a sack lunch and the groups from Bostonia, Cuyamaca, El Cajon and Grossmont served gingerbread and coffee. Lemon Grove, Spring Valley, and Rolando, will act as hostesses at the next Mt. Helix Council meeting.

Those attending from Lemon Grove were Mrs. Gilbert Durham, Kenneth Vaughn, Byron Netzel, John Malloy, W. L. Bartholomew and R. J. Siegelman.

By a 100 per cent vote of the representatives present at the Randolph Morse home January 25, the Youth Center, originally sponsored by the local P.T.A., will be known as the Community Center, built with bonds on hand and by volunteer labor. Work is expected to start soon.

Several friends drove to Blossom Valley Sunday afternoon to see Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Sunbury at their new ranch home. They are located in a beautiful valley surrounded by mountains. They stated it was worth the trip to see the scenery alone; one can see for miles.

The Sunburys have a nice home there, and a thriving young orchard, promising a variety of fruit. The trees suffered no apparent damage from the recent cold weather, although many orchards along the way seemed to be badly damaged.

Friends calling on them were Mr. and Mrs. L. F. Herder, Rev. and Mrs. Dan Apra, Mr. and Mrs.

False Alarm

Incessant jangling of the alarm bell at the Shopping Center Wednesday morning around one o'clock turned out to be a false alarm.

The Coast Patrol was on the spot right after the bell started clanging, but lack of evidence of burglary or vandalism resulted only in a call to owner Ray Adfinger, who arrived and reset the alarm.

Cause of the ringing was believed to be a temporary defect in the sealing of the contact points of the alarm system. A similar experience occurred with the system on Lindley's Pharmacy last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Al Huebsch and Mrs. Paul Duley drove to Oceanside Sunday to visit Mr. and Mrs. Fred Ellis, who traded their property on Main Street for a court in Oceanside. They have a beautiful home there into which they moved Friday.

Attended East San Diego Women's Tea

Several members of the local Forward Club attended a tea at the women's club in East San Diego Wednesday, given by the East San Diego Women's Assembly.

Each club invited was obliged to furnish a number on the program, so Mrs. Shuyler Read of Mt. Vernon Avenue composed a poem which she rendered to the musical accompaniment of "Auld Lang Syne" by Mrs. Loy Holmquist.

Local ladies attending were Mrs. Todd Ballantyne, Mrs. Mary Livesay, Mrs. R. E. Issott, Mrs. Fred Johnson, Mrs. Louisa Johnson, Mrs. J. F. Gillespie, Mrs. A. R. Rettke, Mrs. A. P. Schnell and Mrs. Ted Haaf.

GUESTS FROM L. A.

Mr. and Mrs. Perry Morse of Los Angeles were guests this week of Rev. and Mrs. Russell Hensley of the Vista La Mesa Christian Church, taking part in the Women's Council program Tuesday, and Mr. Morse participated in the meeting of Sunday School teachers Tuesday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Garber of Hilltop Chateau on Central Avenue, were called to Bakersfield Sunday by the serious illness of Merle's mother, Mrs. N. N. Garber.

THANK YOU!

We wish to express our sincere appreciation to all of our friends and customers who dropped in Tuesday, February 1, and extended congratulations and best wishes on our second anniversary. We pledge ourselves to continue to strive to merit your friendship and patronage.

SCHOOL NEWS

TONGUE TWISTERS FOR SIXTH GRADE

Here is a test given to would be radio announcers. If you can read the following paragraph clearly and without a mistake, we think you're good. We of the sixth grade can't, but we think you would have fun trying:

"I bought a batch of baking powder and baked a batch of biscuits. I brought a big basket of biscuits back to the bakery and baked a basket of big biscuits. Then I took a big basket of biscuits and the basket of big biscuits and mixed the big biscuits with the basket of biscuits that was next to the big basket and put a bunch of biscuits from the basket into a box. Then I took the box of mixed biscuits and a biscuit mixer and biscuit basket of biscuits and the box of mixed biscuits to the bakery and opened a tin of sardines."

Whew! The radio announcers have to read it in twenty seconds. How well did you do?

Our sixth grade class was studying about poor people that became famous. We made reports about them. A girl in our room made a report about Benjamin Franklin. She told about "Poor Richard's Almanac" in which we became interested. Each of us was to bring in some of his sayings. Most of us have already done so.

—William Blair

Mr. Butler's eighth grade class put on an assembly January 26 for the seventh and eighth grades.

The assembly was called "The Presidential Inauguration." It was written by Carolyn Cozart, Judy Bemis, Rene Wilson, Nancy Hogan and Peggy Thomas.

The characters were: President Truman, Bob Word; Governor Dewey, Earl Smith; curtain, Jerry Forcier; train, Alfred Bassinger; doctor, Wayne Bemis; breeze, Ronnie Stull; Cloud, Tommy Thirkell; queer feeling, Judy Bemis; nobody, Marlene Foster; elephant, Wayne Bemis; Thurmand and Bettelcomb, AL-

Last Thursday the Lions Club of Lemon Grove entertained several Lions from El Cajon. Art Leitch, deputy state president, was their speaker.

This week they meet February 3, and a man from the county agricultural department will be the speaker.

The Lions plan to exhibit a flag which they will present to Cub Scout Troop 8 Friday night. They are the sponsors for the boys of the local Cub pack.

Incidents Bring Accidents

by Dr. Frank Weege, D. C.

Tim Rogers and his wife, Bertha, lived up in the mountains on a forty acre tract of land, half of which was covered with immense boulders. The rest of it was mostly in oak standings, although there were a few clear spots with wonderful soil which were utilized for gardening purposes, from which the Rogers obtained the bulk of their food supplies. A ten year old Guernsey cow furnished the needs of milk and butter, and a flock of chickens were kept for egg and meat production. It was a somewhat dilapidated place but they called it their home in which they lived their lives in peace and contentment. Tim was 68 years old and his wife was 66. Both were on the old age pension.

A married daughter with three children lived in the city about forty miles away.

Since the daughter wished to accompany her husband, a farm equipment salesman, on a short business trip to his firm's headquarters, grandma Bertha was asked to come to the city and tend to the children for a few days.

Early Sunday morning, Tim took his wife down the hill in their Dixie Flyer, by now a forgotten car. How he made the antiquity follow his impulses, even on the few trips he was compelled to make, borders on mystery, but he managed to get around.

He stayed with his daughter and son-in-law until after lunch, when he started his journey for home. Up the highway a bit, he stopped at a roadhouse for a bottle of beer. It had been a long time since he had such little enjoyment.

Before finishing it, he considered if he should have another. It wasn't the money involved, no. His son-in-law had given him a few dollars with which to buy gasoline. But could he take it? After all, he was not an habitual drinker.

Before he had made up his mind, Frank Stillwell entered. Frank and Tim had been good friends for many years, but since Tim came down so seldom, they had not seen each other for a long time.

Both men thought they had a reason for a little celebration and words like 'if' and 'how many' were cast away consequently.

After a few more bottles of beer they switched to Burgandy, and by this time, they were really celebrating. When darkness had set in, Tim realized that it was time to break up the party; after all, he was quite a way from home and certain chores had to be performed when he got there. So, after saying 'good-night' several times, and shaking hands over and over again, he finally got to his feet and went on his way.

Coming in contact with the cool air, he noticed that he felt his drinks, yet he started his car and turned into the highway. After a few miles, he made his turn into the side road when he said to himself, "10 more miles."

Four miles up the road, Tim had to negotiate 3 sharp turns in succession. Going into the first one, he managed very nicely, but in making the second, it seemed to Tim that the road all at once became narrow, and pulling his wheel sharply toward the right, landed in the ditch. Not being able to get himself out of his predicament, he decided to call for help. He remembered that John Eckers, another friend lived just about a mile and a half further up the road. He would help him to get home. So he got out of his car and made his way on foot.

It was pitch dark, the wind was blowing, and a drizzly rain had set in. Tim's head felt heavy, and his mind was confused; his only thought was getting help to go on home. He forgot the cattle guard stretching across the road on Acker's west side property line. As he stepped over the guard, his right foot caught between two iron rails and as he fell down, broke his ankle.

Though he was suffering excruciating pain, he could not free himself. Helplessly, he was lying there for some time, when Hank Mollins and his wife came by on their way home. As they noticed Tim's serious condition, they aided him into their own car and took him back to the city and into a hospital. There Tim got good care until he could manage to walk in a plaster cast. It was the first accident Tim had in his life and while he is all over it, every time it rains, his right ankle gives him trouble.

And now, as to the moral of the story:

Don't let a long missed friend upset
Your routine life and level head.
To meet and greet him sure is fine;
Imbibing though in beer and wine
Until your minds lead you astray,
And mishap strikes you on your way
Is not the thing for men to do
No matter what inveigled you,
Sheer luck embraced Tim's life when he Went up the road so carelessly;
When all the odds were few and slim
Of friendly people finding him
In agony with burning pain,
Exposed to wind and drizzly rain;
And taking care of him that he Could make a quick recovery.

New Officers for Coordinating Council Seated

The Lemon Grove Coordinating Council met Tuesday evening in the Congregational Church with 12 present. The new officers took over after the reading of the previous meeting.

Rev. Dan Apra as president, Byron Netzeley as vice president, and Mrs. Pete McGuire as secretary-treasurer, were presented as the permanent officers by the nominating committee. No nominations were made from the floor, so the secretary was instructed to cast a unanimous ballot and they were declared elected.

There was a discussion as to the purposes of the coordinating council and more information will be sent to the various organizations about the council. It was pointed out that the council will be invaluable in planning community affairs and in welfare work.

Organizations not represented as yet will be contacted personally by volunteers in the near future.

The next meeting of the Coordinating Council will be held March 7, in room 26 of the Golden Avenue unit of the school.

DRIVE UNDERWAY FOR NEW SCOUT BUILDING

A campaign to raise $50,000 to provide a permanent headquarters building for San Diego area Boy Scouts is underway.

A ten acre tract, with considerable money already spent in preliminary work is the site of the proposed structure. This tract is located near the former Scout headquarters known as the 'Indian Village' in Balboa Park.

Scout Troops and Cub Packs will have an opportunity of aiding in the campaign. Troops and Packs which help by contributing $25.00 or more, will have the names of the contributing members placed on the cornerstone.

Adult leaders and parents may also help. It is hoped that all units in the area will enter, so that it may be said that Scouts and Cubs built the foundation.

The new building will provide administrative offices, training center, meeting place for executive boards and committees, facilities for activities, camping center and quarters for caretaker.

The director for this county-wide affair is Andy Benson, of Lemon Grove. Also serving from Lemon Grove, are Dr. L. B. Schultz, Hans Ahrensburg, and Glen McFarland, all acting as captains.

Mr. and Mrs. Ted Magnuson and family of Massachusetts Avenue, enjoyed a trip to the snow Sunday, going to Cuyamaca, Julian, and Ramona, where they visited with their friends, Mr. and Mrs. W. I. Brown.
